

TEACHER'S HEARING IS POSTPONED AND BOND IS INCREASED

Kenton County School Teacher Held for Examination and His Bond Is Increased to $25,000.

Covington, Ky., May 27. — Thomas Sebree, Jr., 30 years old, a teacher in the school at Bracht Station, a village in the southern part of this county, was arraigned in the Kenton Circuit court here Friday on the charge of murder in connection with the death of Selma Clemmons, 14, school girl.

Attorney John B. O'Neal, representing him asked for a continuance. Judge Read placed Sebree under a bond of $25,000, which was furnished by the accused's father and set the date for hearing on June 2.

Sebree was arrested on a warrant sworn to by the girl's father, who alleged that Sebree contributed to the death of the girl. The teacher was arrested last Thursday and gave bond of $15,000 for his appearance in court Friday.

According to Sheriff Peto P. Thiel and Dr. J. J. Marshall, of Crittendon, Ky., the family physician of the Clemmons, the death of the girl was the result of an illegal operation. The sheriff declares that he is in the possession of the name of a Covington physician, mentioned in the case.

Sebree and the girl, teacher and pupil, permitted an attachment to develop between them. Both came from well known families in the southern part of Kenton county and were reared in the same neighborhood.

The girl died last Tuesday and was buried Thursday in the cemetery near Bracht Station.

Sebree declined to make any statement when he was arrested. He had been cited to court on April 21, on a statutory charge brought by the girl's father and was released on $10,000 bond. The case never came to trial because of the condition of the girl.

MURDER CASE POSTPONED.

The trial of John Mason Kennedy, who is charged with killing his son-in-law, Raymond Hiltbrand near Concord several years ago, which was set for trial at Vanceburg this week has been postponed. Kennedy was arrested in Florida a few weeks ago and brought to Kentucky by Sheriff Lykins of Lewis county. He is defended by Hon. A. D. Cole, of this city.

LEWIS GUNMAN IS ARRESTED AT LOCAL HOSPITAL SATURDAY

Leslie Ruggles, Wounded By Lewis County Deputy Sheriff, Patient at Hayswood Hospital To Be Removed to Catlettsburg.

Leslie Ruggles who was wounded at Epworth Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Smith McGill in a pistol battle when the officer attempted to arrest him, is a patient at Hayswood hospital having been brought to the local hospital Friday by his brothers for treatment. Ruggles escaped into the woods in the pistol battle and officers could not locate him but it develops that he got to Mt. Carmel where first aid was given him by a physician and he was then rushed to the local hospital.

Deputy Sheriff McGill arrived here from Vanceburg Saturday morning and Ruggles was placed under arrest at the hospital. While his wounds are of a serious nature, being shot twice in the left arm, they are not thought to be of a fatal nature.

Circuit Judge W. C. Halbert, of the Lewis Circuit Court, has issued an order for the immediate removal of Ruggles to the Catlettsburg Jail and Sheriff Frank Lykins, armed with the removal order, is expected to arrive in Maysville Saturday afternoon. Ruggles will then be taken to Catlettsburg Saturday night by the Lewis county authorities and confined in the jail at that place for safe keeping.

Immediately upon officers learning Friday night that Ruggles was a patient at Hayswood Hospital, a guard was placed on the hospital and there has been a guard on watch constantly all day Saturday to prevent the escape of the prisoner.

Deputy Sheriff McGill told the story of the shooting here Saturday saying that he was armed with an order of court to deliver Ruggles to Vanceburg on an old charge. It appears that Ruggles was some time ago arrested on a statutory charge and to save himself a term in the penitentiary, married the young woman making the charge. He is now charged with mistreatment of the young woman and desertion and he was ordered arrested by the court on this old charge. The Deputy Sheriff and a constable drove to Epworth Thursday and their car was stopped in front of a blacksmith shop, where Ruggles was working. As the constable jumped out of the car, Ruggles appeared at the door with a revolver in his hand and began firing. Mr. McGill drew his revolver and fired at Ruggles as he stepped out of his automobile. The first shot the sheriff fired, struck Ruggles in the left arm but he continued to pour bullets at the officers, tearing many holes in the automobile. Ruggles was armed with two automatic revolvers. He ran behind the automobile and broke for the woods, where the officers lost him.

JUDGE COCHRAN HALTS MINE WAR AT STEARNS

Injunction Granted By Federal Judge Against Union Miners at Stearns Strike.

Officers of the United Mine Workers of America and members of the local union at Stearns, McCroary county, were enjoined from interfering with operation of the mines or with employees of the Stearns Coal and Lumber company or from taking any further steps to unionize the mines Friday by Federal District Judge A. M. J. Cochran.

Judge Cochran granted a temporary injunction against the union leaders at Catlettsburg where federal court is now in session.

Granting of the injunction brings to an end at least for the time the legal fight which has been made on the miners by the Stearns company. Filing a petition charging the union miners now on strike with acts of violence to intimidate men now working in the mines and various other offenses, the company obtained a restraining order April 28 from Judge Cochran.

At that time May 6 was fixed as the date when arguments for the temporary injunction would be heard. The arguments were to have been heard in Maysville before Judge Cochran but were continued until April 26 when counsel for the striking miners asked for a continuance to prepare their case. The date was then fixed for May 26 at Catlettsburg.

DEFENDANTS WIN IN ALIENATION SUIT IN FEDERAL COURT

Jury But a Short Time Returning Verdict For Defendants in Suit Against Prominent Lewis Contractors for Alienation.

A jury in the Federal Court at Catlettsburg this week was but five minutes returning a verdict for the defendants in the suit of Mary Dunbar vs. George E. Dunbar and his wife, Cinda Dunbar.

It will be remembered that some time ago a suit was filed by the same plaintiff against the same defendants in the Lewis Circuit Court asking judgment for $50,000 and costs for the alleged alienation of the plaintiff's husband's affections. This suit was within a short time withdrawn and a similar suit brought in Federal Court asking $12,000 damages and costs.

The wife, who is a native Bracken countian, charged that the defendants who were the parents of her husband, had alienated the affections of her husband and asked damages for this alleged action. Attorneys C. E. Stricklett and M. J. Hennessey represented the plaintiff and Attorneys A. D. Cole and R. D. Wilson represented the defendants.

Mr. George Dunbar is one of Lewis county's most prominent citizens and is most favorably known in Mason county, where he has many very warm personal friends.

Mr. Omar Johnson from Epworth called up the Maysville Tea & Coffee Co. this morning and said: "I am sending you down twenty crates of the finest berries I ever picked. I was anxious for you to have this fine lot for your Friday and Saturday customers. You were certainly in luck when you got my patch this year, for they are so sweet that they need practically no sugar for eating." 26M2t

AMERICA BALKS AGAIN.

The President has felt impelled to decline the invitation to take part in the adjourned session of the Genoa conference at The Hague, or wherever it may be called. Mr. Hughes declares that this government is profoundly interested in the economic recovery of Russia, but feels that the present suggestions are "lacking in definiteness," and concludes that it cannot helpfully participate.

Without attempting to outline the plan which has been cabled to Washington, and which seems anything but indefinite to a layman, the situation in Europe, it may be said, has reached such a pass that it becomes a serious question whether the United States, where purely political questions are not involved, can any longer afford to stand aside on the ground of consistency or mere technicalities. The President is reported to have felt, when the invitation came to participate in the Genoa conference, that his administration faced the greatest crisis which has developed since he was inaugurated.

The present hour is even more critical than the day on which the Powers met at Genoa. Sir George Paish says that while that conference has not attained the results which were hoped for, things have not been left as they were. Matters are more seriously complicated than before, and "all hope now rests with America. Will she respond to the opportunity? Will she employ her extraordinary power for the purpose of preserving mankind from the greatest political and economic danger and the greatest suffering to which it has ever been exposed? Will she preserve life in a manner never accomplished before? Will she save world civilization, including her own from disastrous reaction? The danger demands that America now display her great power for good, in her own way, to its fullest extent, and take upon herself that leadership of mankind which will bring nations on to a higher plane of international friendship. The world problems can be overcome, not by the Europeanization of America, but by the Americanization of the world."

In the invitation which Premier Facta has extended to this government to have an official representative on the mixed commission which will meet at The Hague on June 15th, it is expressly stipulated that the United States will not be bound by the decisions reached, but that Europe needs most of all the advice and the moderating influence of her presence at the council board.

Lord Northcliffe declared several months ago that what Europe needs above all is a chairman like Mr. Hughes. Would not Mr. Root fill the bill?

Sir George may be wrong, and Mr. Hughes may be right, but there are many signs pointing in both directions, and one thing, at least, may be confidently asserted: the world is at the parting of the ways.

RAILROADS ORDERING EQUIPMENT

It is indisputable that, despite many drawbacks in the transportation and industrial worlds, there are numerous indications that a marked revival in business is anticipated. A careful review of some phases of the situation makes this presentation of the case: "That the railroads of the United States are preparing for increased business activity, which is predicted for the later months of the year, is indicated by the number of freight cars and locomotives contracted for thus far during the current year. Orders for equipment have been unusually heavy in the last few weeks. Actual orders thus far in 1922 approximate 50,000 cars, including the order for 16,000 cars announced by the New York Central Railroad last week."

It is stated that the orders for the present week will be the largest since 1916, which railroad men have characterized as the last normal year so far as ordering railroad equipment is concerned. During the first quarter of 1922, ending with March, the total orders placed were: 29,281 freight cars, 420 passenger cars and ninety locomotives. Since April 1 the orders have continued to pour in, the figures being given as follows: 5,010 freight cars, 493 passenger cars and eighty locomotives. It will be seen that the orders for passenger cars for April exceed in number those for the preceding three months, while the orders for locomotives almost equal those for that period. That means a marked increase in expensive railroad equipment—passenger cars and locomotives.

These facts and figures come from The Railway Age, which is excellent authority. That publication, alluding to some recent orders, says: "A feature of the 1922 freight car business has been the size of the orders, as evidenced by the New York Central's 16,000, the Burlington's 7,300, the St. Paul's 4,000, the Norfolk and Western's 4,500 and the Pacific Fruit Express' 3,300." The story is told at considerable length, with addition of other details, and this conclusion is reached: "By and large, things feel optimistic and enthusiastically optimistic at that." It affords ground for believing better times in the transportation business are at hand.—Troy Times.

A STAND FOR THE FLAG.

American public opinion will assuredly be behind the Shipping Board in the rate war in which, through no fault or desire of its own, it is now engaged in the Southern American passenger trade. There are four splendid ships carrying the American flag on this route, and everything was going on serenely until suddenly, like a bolt from the blue, without warning or consultation, the competing British line announced a heavy cut in passenger rates. Taken aback at first by this unfriendly act, the Shipping Board was nevertheless not long in arriving at a decision in the emergency thus precipitated, and it has now directed a rate lower by from $10 to $50 than its rival's lowest cut.

The Shipping Board in a statement makes it clear that enthrone competition is not of its seeking, but it takes the view that the present may be a test fight on all the oceans as to whether the United States is to continue the maintenance and expansion of its merchant marine, and it declares its determination to meet the issue at every point for any length of time. "Our hat is in the ring," says Chairman Lusk, "and we are going to stick as long as necessary to insure the position of American-flag ships between North and South America."

This is the proper spirit, and the American people will back it up. "It wins out."—Washington Post.

EVER HAVE IT?

If You Have, the Statement of This Maysville Citizen Will Interest You.

Ever have a "low-down" pain in the back?
In the "small" right over the hips? That's the home of backache. If it's caused by weak kidneys. Maysville people testify to their worth. Read a case of it: Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207 West Second street, Maysville, says: "I was in a bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and also suffered from rheumatic pains. I have been so bad that I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were very painful. My kidneys were in a bad condition owing to their irregular action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to send to Wood & Son's Drug Store and get a couple boxes. After using them I was all right. I have felt well since using Doan's and recommend them gladly." Price 60c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mattingly had. New York. — Six million dollars a year is the income of the New York City Automobile Bureau, all from automobile licenses. It helps to understand our traffic difficulties. The Bureau's two floors at Sixty-fifth street and Broadway form one of the busiest institutions in the city, with 150 employees busy every minute. There are 134,000 operators' licenses for private owners, out in the city, and 175,000 for hired chauffeurs. The bureau does a good many kinds of work — investigating the record of applicants for licenses and maintaining a court of its own for people whose licenses have been suspended; but the job that gets the most attention from the public is that of examining applicants. Every day, an examiner leads forth fourteen cars in parade through the West Sixties and Seventies, testing each driver for competence in handling his own car. Sitting in the front seat, he has a malicious habit of asking its driver to stop on a hill. It isn't the simplest thing to do, and of course every one of the fourteen has to stop immediately afterward of get into difficulty.

At last, we have something like a definite decision — once more — on skirt lengths. The Associated Dress Industries gave out word the other day that seven or eight inches from the ground is "the" length, this applying, with slight modifications to everything, suits, afternoon dresses, and elaborate ones for evening wear. The more commonly adopted length for splits and tailored frocks, however, and one which will be recognized as quite correct, will be nine to twelve inches, which is not such a tremendous change, after all.

"The Shiek" had to be dramatized, of course. Any book so loved by the millions couldn't escape it. So it is now announced for early next season, with Conway Tearle in the role of the amorous Arab.

Four hundred and seven summonses for violations of the motor vehicle law were served on motorists within twenty-four hours one time last week. That is the largest number ever served in the city in that space of time. During the first three weeks of May 4, 884 violators of the motor ordinances were brought to police court.

The only occupation in which American women have not yet engaged, according to a survey of the country just completed, is prize fighting. There is even one woman who manages bouts for her husband, the lightweight champion of his city. The 500 women sponsoring the exhibition of woman's activities to be held here in September, count on having her representatives of the thousands of occupations to demonstrate the importance of women's place in business and pro-

WEST UNION AND GEORGETOWN BANDS

Herewith is presented a picture of the West Union and Georgetown, Ohio, bands combined. This picture was taken at Georgetown, Ohio, at the recent Grant Centennial celebration held in that city. These two bands are but a little over six months old and make splendid music for an organization so young. They are instructed by Prof. C. C. Nixon and Prof. J. D. Naylor.

These two bands created considerable interest during the State Knights Templar Conclave held here last week. The Georgetown band led the Mt. Sterling Commandery and the West Union band the Lebanon Commandery in the great street parade. Unusual attention was attracted to the Georgetown band in the parade which was directed by the only woman band director seen in these parts.

At the reception given by Mt. Sterling Commandery at Beechwood Park the two bands were combined and played a most delightful concert. The bands gave complete satisfaction to the commanderies for which they played and the people of Maysville were more than glad of this opportunity to hear them play and hope they will be enabled to come again soon.

Colonel J. Harbour Russell, manager of the Cardinal and Horseshoe bands of this city, is really the "Daddy" of both of these bands, his interest in juvenile bands having been the cause of the general awakening. Colonel Russell is especially proud of these two Ohio bands and made the contracts for them at the Conclave.

ways ready to take a chance." At present exchange, the 1,000 kronen notes are worth 10 cents, giving a nice fifteen cent profit to these dealers.

"The Rotters" is the latest theatrical offering of this off-season. It is an English play by H. M. Maltby, and is being presented at the Thirty-ninth street Theater. It is well-played, with Harry Corson Clarke in the leading role, but as a play, it is only so-so.

The Interborough Rapid Transit Company has undertaken a new job for the good of its public. It is delegating special squads of men to keep trespassers awake. On the night runs, it is not unusual to see half a dozen nap-taking citizens dozing in the subway cars. These are now brought to startled alertness by the booming cry of the guards as he flames from one car to another. "Everybody wake up!" he cries. "Watch your property. There are pickpockets on this train." The call is as magic as that of Paul Revere, and the sleepers come to instant attention. The pickpockets have been finding sleeping subway passengers their easiest and most lucrative victims.

Ashland, Ky., May 27. — Charged in a warrant with being the suband of at least six wives, Frank Bridgeman, 31 years old, of Ashland, was in jail tonight at Cattlettsburg awaiting trial.

The warrant, charging bigamy, was sworn to by Will R. Willis could not give the names of the other women Bridgeman is alleged to have married.

Bridgeman denied the charges. Mrs. Bridgeman, or the alleged No. 6, declared to the police that Willis is jealous of Bridgeman.

LIKE CLOUDS ACROSS A SUMMER SKY.

foretelling the dreaded storm are the symptoms of women's diseases which point the way to physical and mental breakdown. The nervous irritability, the backache, the dragging pains, are not only hard to endure, but they bring certain knowledge of collapse unless something is done to relieve the sufferer. There is one standard remedy which has shown the way out for nearly fifty years. The women who have "come back" through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound present an argument stronger than words could ever be.

CONGRESSMEN GET IMPATIENT WAITING TO VOTE ON BEER

Petition Asks Committee To Bring Out
Bill Authorizing Beer, Cider,
And Wine Sale.

Washington, May 27. — "Wet" forces in the House joined hands Friday to get action on Representative Hill's local option bill permitting the sale and manufacture of 2.75 per cent. beer and cider and "dandelion wine" which now is becoming dust-covered in a pigeon hole in the Ways and Means Committee.

A written request, signed by fifty House members, was sent to the committee Friday afternoon asking for a prompt report on the measure and an opportunity to vote on it, according to an announcement from Mr. Hill. These House members informed the committee that they believe a vote should be taken on the measure before summer vacation.

The bill, which is said to have been endorsed by the Baltimore City Council and also by many other municipalities and chambers of commerce, would bring the "beer and wine" issue to a "showdown." It would allow each Congressional district to constitute a Federal local option, and the voters would decide at the November election whether they want beer and cider, as provided.

Beer is defined in the bill as meaning a beverage obtained by the alcoholic fermentation of an infusion or decoction of barley, malt and hops in drinkable water containing not more than 2.75 per centum of alcohol by volume. Cider means any beverage obtained by the natural fermentation of apple or other fruit, vegetable or herb juices containing not more than 2.75 per centum of alcohol by volume.

WARD SEEKS BOND.

White Plains, N. Y., May 27. — Still fighting for the liberty of Walter S. Ward, his lawyers went to Newburgh today to ask Justice Seeger to release him on bail.

Ward, millionaire son of George Ward, "bread king," steadfastly keeps secret the reasons back of the tragedy. He will not tell why he paid blackmailers $30,000, although he admits killing Clarence Peters when the latter allegedly made a demand for $75,000 more.

Ward spent last night in Westchester county jail after Justice Young had refused to release him on a habeas corpus writ.

FATHER SLAYER.

Waco, Texas, May 27. — Samuel Harris, father of Mrs. Margaret B. Hayes, victim of an attack, shot and killed a 23-year-old negro late yesterday.

"Just say that Sam Harris killed that negro," was the comment of the father of the girl.

This is the tenth Texas lynching during the month of May. Waco is the home of Governor Neff, who only a few days ago condemned mob violence and appealed to citizens to let the law take its course.

COLORED COUPLE WEDS.

REIGN OF TERROR IN BELFAST STREETS

Gangs Fighting in Streets of Belfast

Belfast, May 27. — With 31 dead in a week's fighting in Belfast, the civil war between Sinn Feiners and Ulsterites reached a fierce climax during the night.

Twenty fires made the sky a blood-red canopy, beneath which gunmen gangs fought in the streets.

Roaring of flames, rattle of rifle fire and clangor of fore brigades made a grim symphony for melo-dramatic scenes. Frequent bomb explosions added to the terror of the night.

This morning the firemen were exhausted and it was doubtful whether they could continue their fight against the arson squads.

The death list was brought up to 31 by the killing of two persons by snipers early today. Many were wounded.

Police searched many houses in the "war zone" and confiscated rifles and ammunition found in some which were being used as arsenals by the rival factions.
